This workshop is aimed at providing professionals including educators, social workers, direct care providers, health care workers, etc. with an understanding of behaviours in context. By maintaining an objective stance and evaluating behaviour as a means of communication, participants will learn how to better serve those in their care. Further, this workshop will outline several practical approaches that can lead to a reduction of problem behaviour overall within an agency, educational setting or within an individual's sphere of influence.

Dave Hingsburger is the Director of Clinical and Educational Services for Vita Community Living Services and a primary consultant for the Sexuality Clinic at York Simcoe Behaviour Management Services. Dave also works in private practice as a consultant for schools, parents and agencies in a variety of areas regarding service provision to people with intellectual disabilities, focusing primarily on problematic sexual behaviour, understanding problem behaviour and abuse prevention. Dave has published over 30 books, and has had a multitude of articles published in magazines, newspapers and journals. Educationally, Dave earned his B.A. in psychology at the University of Victoria in BC, a certificate in Human Relations from Ryerson in Toronto, and his M.Ed. from the University of Toronto. In the fall of 2009, Dave was inducted into the Canadian Disability Hall of Fame.
